TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

We have recently been asked to provide information on our impact on the environment. This has had to be compiled at very short notice and in some detail.

Donna Barlow of Donna Barlow Travel was able to provide our company with all the necessary historical information on air travel within the Australian group to calculate the carbon load from that activity. This information was provided upon request and allowed us to meet our deadline for the total package of information.

This example of high level service is what we have come to expect from DBT over the years and I am please to add this testimonial to an undoubtedly long list of other testimonials from satisfied clients.
