

The Royal Hawaiian, Waikiki, Hawaii

It was the age of opulence, when high society behaved as if life were a permanent holiday, and counted among civilization's most necessary luxuries a month-long sojourn at The Royal Hawaiian. The Pink Palace of the Pacific. More than a hotel, a legend. Opened in 1927, it brought fame to Waikiki Beach and Honolulu - and its lure is just as powerful today, with its soaring turrets, hushed Coconut Grove, and service that anticipates every need, wish and whim. For a storybook honeymoon, The Royal Hawaiian is the ideal choice.

Rooms:

Fulfilling the vision of a tropical hideaway, our 527 rooms and suites wed modern comfort and old world charm. In the Historic Building, plush carpets of magenta and sea foam accent custom furniture, from canopied and four-poster beds to Queen Anne-style writing desks and dressers. In the Royal Tower, each room comes with an intimate lanai for a private vantage point on the ocean. But the highest level of sophistication belongs to our Prestige Suites, whose brilliant details reflect our history as the Pink Palace of the Pacific.

Dining and Entertainment:

From magnificently prepared gourmet cuisine to casual beach-side snacks, the Royal Hawaiian provides memorable and tasteful preparations that are sure to suit a range of tastes. The beautiful Surf Room showcases the art of food and wine in a dinner menu that changes nightly, inspired by the day's fresh catch and seasonal island ingredients. The Beachfront Café offers casual dining for every meal of the day. And for shimmering ocean views and refreshing cocktails, the beachfront Mai Tai Bar is a must.

Activities:

Not surprisingly, given our spectacular location, The Royal Hawaiian offers you a virtually unlimited variety of things to do and see. In addition to sun-drenched outdoor activities, you'll also discover the finest in entertainment, cultural events, and world-class shopping. Should you need any assistance making reservations or scheduling activities, our friendly on-site staff will be happy to help.
